

This is absurd. Congress has no business worrying about how Americans get their information. This is not Pornography or Treasonous material; it is the weather and traffic for Pete's sake. Any member of Congress who is remotely involved should be drummed out of office and told to get a life. This country is facing far more important issues than where Americans get their weather and traffic. It is my Constitutional right to get the information anywhere I want, just as it is my right to listen to advertising free entertainment on XM. I guess they think weather and traffic falls under the National Security Act! I am appalled that our Government would spend one minute or one second even entertaining this Bill.
